It is the Client's responsibility to ensure accuracy and legality of content in the offering documents prior to print.

Document deliverables are provided under license from RDR to Client and may not be utilized for any other purpose other than execution of the Client's single Regulation D offering. RDR retains the right to rescind the license should Client utilize the resources or deliverables for any other additional client offering or for an offering executed by another entity other than the Client.

RDR does not engage in the drafting of certain internal corporate operating documents including LLC operating agreements, corporate bylaws, certificates of designation, and limited partnership agreements. It is the Client's responsibility to ensure all related internal corporate documents that may be affected, impacted, and/or required by the securities offering are modified and/or drafted properly to accurately reflect the terms of the offering and the operation of the Client's company.

RDR is not licensed to practice law and shall specifically refrain from providing any legal services with respect to the development of the aforementioned offering documents or Client's planned Regulation D offering. 4. Fees Payable To RDR.

For the work to be performed hereunder, Client agrees to pay to RDR a $6,000.00 Services Fee utilizing the following fee payment schedule:

Upon execution of this Agreement and engagement of RDR services, a one-time engagement fee of $3,500.00 for each private placement offering developed for the Client or affiliated businesses; and

A second and final installment payment of $2,500.00 due, payable, and processed either; (a) 30 days from the date of the Retainer payment or; (b) upon the Client declaring the Private Placement Memorandum document developed by RDR is final and paid prior to RDR delivering a non "draft" watermarked PPM file to Client, whichever comes first.

For Clients that purchase RDR services with a credit card the processing of the second installment payment will automatically occur on the 30th day from payment of the engagement fee. By engaging our firm you are hereby authorizing the processing and payment of the second installment payment upon retaining our services. Clients who pay the engagement fee by check or bank wire will be contacted prior to the 30th day date to arrange payment for the second installment.

Client agrees to and authorizes the second payment which will be processed on the original credit card unless otherwise directed by the Client at the time of engagement of our services. Client hereby agrees and understands that the payment of the second installment payment is not subject to completion of the Private Placement Memorandum drafting or any other offering preparation performance benchmark. Client hereby understands and agrees that by engaging RDR for services RDR will be assigning staff to work on the Client's behalf to provide the services rendered under this Agreement. RDR's internal policies limit the number of clients that can be assigned to RDR staff to ensure each Client is provided quality and timely services. Therefore, by engaging RDR the Client agrees that the timing and processing of the second installment payment is not dependent on progress related to preparation of the offering. Should the Client delay in providing needed information to RDR for development of the offering and related documents, the second installment payment shall still be due, payable, and tendered to RDR on the due date referenced above as the Client is occupying talent bandwidth at RDR that could be deployed to service another Client.

Regulation D Resources is not required to provide notice that the payment is being processed. A receipt will be provided to the Client after the payment has been processed. RDR may impose a $500.00 re-activation fee for any Client account that has not reached the point of offering execution and has been deemed inactive by RDR for a period of more than six (6) months.

RDR retains the right to withhold the delivery of any final deliverables until the second installment payment has been remitted.

Refund Policy:

Refunds will be considered on a case by case basis, at the sole discretion of RDR, and dependent on the work completed on the client file and time investment at the time of the refund requested.

5. No Warranty for Success.

Client further understands and agrees that RDR does not warrant or guarantee that Client will be able to attract third-party investor participants using the private placement offering and related Offering Documents. RDR does not provide any assurance or warranty of successful capital formation using the private placement offering prepared by RDR for the Client.

RDR reserves the right to have the Client execute a specific and separate release of liability should Client decide to execute a "high risk" offering. A high risk offering would include, but not be limited to, selling securities to non-accredited investors, providing disclosure below RDR recommended level, or executing an offering with no minimum offering amount. RDR retains the sole right to determine, in its discretion, if an offering is deemed "high risk".

Further, Client hereby agrees to utilize certain indemnity and release language that RDR may require in offering subscription documentation that requires the investors for securities in the Client's offering to release RDR from any liability or legal action related to the offering and/or the investor's investment in the Client company. The license provided under this agreement for the Client to utilize RDR services and any offering documentation prepared by RDR will be immediately suspended if the aforementioned release language is removed or not utilized in the offering. Client hereby agrees that it shall not accept subscriptions for investment into the offering until participating investors agree to the RDR release language and terms.
